

The greenhouse stock and sell quality planting materials, grafts and seedlings of crops like plantation crops, fruit plants, spices, medicinal plants, vegetable plants, ornamentals, forest tree saplings etc. A state-of-the-art irrigation system is provided to economise water use in the green houses. Planting materials from the different production centres are collected and stored in these green houses for sale to farmers and the general public.

