

Improved varieties of vegetable seeds that are supplied to ATIC from the various production Centres are sold through the sale counter. The counter is fully air conditioned and has a computerized billing system, so that farmers get better services without much hassle. All publications published by the Directorate of Extension are also available for sale through this counter. Bio control agents and value added products are also sold through the sales counter.

